

Social Media Tips to Promote Your Fundraiser

Indiegogo Life makes it easy to share your fundraiser with your community on social media channels, like Facebook and Twitter. This is the best way to raise awareness and build support from your community.

1. SHARE YOUR FUNDRAISER ON TWITTER AND FACEBOOK

Share your fundraiser on Twitter and/or Facebook page at least twice a week and always remember to include a direct link to the fundraiser page on Indiegogo Life.

Your posts should be engaging, personal and should communicate to your supporters why you need their help. Encourage friends and family members to share on their Facebook and Twitter pages as well.

To spread the word, be sure to follow people you know as well as people in your local community. You can use also use Twitter Search to find conversations about a cause or topic that might be relevant to your fundraiser. See what people are talking about and join or start a conversation.

2. SHARE IMAGES ON TWITTER AND FACEBOOK

People love to look at pictures and watch compelling videos, so be sure to include relevant visuals in your updates and tweets whenever possible.

Twitter and Facebook add every photo you share to a photo gallery. Take advantage of this feature to tell a visual story that is relevant to your fundraiser. You can also invite contributors to post images and videos from fundraiser and share on social media.

3. INCREASE VISIBILITY WITH HASHTAGS

A hashtag is created by using the # symbol ahead of a word. It is used to mark keywords and categorize messages. It can also help your tweet get attention since anyone who does a search for that hashtag may find your tweet.

Hashtags can be used to add color or personality to a tweet (like "#thankful") or it could be used to tie a tweet to a specific, broader topic ("#ASL"). Three (3) hashtags is generally the maximum number recommended per tweet.

4. SHARE FUNDRAISER COVERAGE ON SOCIAL MEDIA

If the press covers your fundraiser, you should share the article with friends and family.

Here is a list of social media best practices for sharing coverage:

- Favorite, share or retweet coverage on Twitter and Facebook
- Tweet a "thank you" directly at the reporter and include the outlet and article link
- Follow the news outlets and reporters that covered your fundraiser
- Tag reporters and news outlets in original tweets and Facebook posts with the "@" symbol
- Tag contributors and the fundraiser beneficiaries in coverage updates with the "@" symbol
- Post media coverage as an update in your Indiegogo Life fundraiser and include sample social media posts for contributors to share on their own Facebook and Twitter pages
